BUTLERMAN PERFORMS A STUNT IN SOMNAMBULISM

Walks Through Upstairs Door, Falling a Distance of Twelve Feet—Not Addicted to the Habit

Butler, O., Aug. 9.—Herbert Statler shows the effects of a somnambulist's jaunt, in which he walked from the upstairs door of a farmhouse near Ontario.

Herbert went to that locality to work on the piling of a road. He secured boarding at a house which had a door opening onto a porch from the second story. The door was left open one night and Herbert walked through the door and fell a distance of about twelve feet, alighting on his head and shoulders.

He was painfully injured about the head and arms and shoulders. One finger of his left hand was also fractured. He is not subject to sleepwalking, but it is believed that the first night spent in the house induced him to walk in his slumbers.

Grapes and Wine.

Most people think white grapes make white wine and dark grapes make red wine. It is a popular error. Red wine is made by fermenting grape juice and grape skins together, and white wine is made by fermenting grape juice alone.

Not Foolish.

Patience—Women seem to be doing everything that men do nowadays. Patience—Nonsense! You never saw a man powdering his nose fifty times a day, did you?—Youkers Statesman.
